What is a Lawn Sprinkler System?

A sprinkler system is a complex network of pipes, valves, electrical connections and sprinkler heads. Because it serves as the circulation system for your yard, the design and installation of your system are critical to its success. It's a complicated process requiring a host of equipment, as well as a background in landscape design and hydraulics. This is why it's so important to have a professional contractor like The Sprinkler Company to design and install your system.

If you want it done right you've come to the right place. Large commercial office complex, apartments, athletic fields, or your home, we can do it all. The Sprinkler Company has been proudly serving Wisconsin since 1988. We are a Bronze Member of The Irrigation Association (www.irrigation.org). Owner's Michael and Matthew Baenen have both received certifications in irrigation design and irrigation contracting. Along with their manufacturer trained staff you know you will get the best quality from one of the most highly trained staffs available in the industry. We would be happy to help you with any of your irrigation needs.

A sprinkler system can save you money and here's why.

- Conservation. All of us must do our part. And the place to start is with the most precious natural resource of all. Water.
- If you're like most homeowners, you're using up to 50% more water than your landscaping requires. That's neither frugal for the pocketbook, nor beneficial for the lawn. More water does not mean more beautiful results.
- The solution isn't just watering less. But watering more scientifically: The right amount of water, evenly distributed in the right places at the right time. A Sprinkler Company Automatic Sprinkler System makes all that possible.

Big or small we can handle any type of irrigation installation. No need to worry about your project being too big or too small. We have installed irrigation for golf courses, corporate headquarters, athletic fields, parks,....all the way down to pot watering systems for home owners. Our company owns a large assortment of equipment to assist with all installation needs.

For customers with existing irrigation systems we have a full time service department that can help with any questions or repairs, usually within 24 hours. Looking for a great deal on start-ups, winterization, or a check-up on your existing irrigation system. We warranty our service work with a 1 year parts and labor warranty. Give us a call today!

A smart consumer knows that anyone can buy components from major manufacturers like Rain Bird, Toro, Hunter, Weathermatic, or Irritrol. A great irrigation system starts with a great design. Be assured that The Sprinkler Company has superior experience in quality design and installation.

To sum it up, The Sprinkler Company has made an investment in personnel, training, technology and equipment that is second to none. If you are searching for a professional company with full time dedication to install your Landscape Irrigation System, your search is over. We can handle the job!
